First Edition CAN/ULC-S663-11

STANDARD FOR SPILL CONTAINMENT DEVICES FOR FLAMMABLE LIQUID AND COMBUSTIBLE LIQUID ABOVEGROUND STORAGE TANKS

ULC Standards is pleased to announce the publication of the First Edition CAN/ULC-S663-11, Standard for Spill Containment Devices for Flammable Liquid and Combustible Liquid Aboveground Storage Tanks. This Standard replaces and supersedes ULC/ORD-C142.19-94, Spill Containment Devices for Aboveground Flammable and Combustible Liquid Storage Tanks.

This First Edition National Standard of Canada was developed by the ULC Joint Task Group on Tank Appurtenances, with membership from the ULC Standards Committees on, Fittings for Flammable and Combustible Liquids, and Stationary Steel Storage Containers for Flammable and Combustible Liquids. It was formally approved by the ULC Committee on Fittings for Flammable and Combustible Liquids and is published under the date of April 2011.

This Standard sets forth minimum requirements for the construction and performance of spill containment devices for aboveground flammable and combustible liquid storage tanks. The spill containment device is designed to catch, contain and provide for the evacuation of spilled product. The means of evacuation does not include disposal into the environment.

For the purposes of this Standard, flammable and combustible liquids mean gasoline, fuel oil, kerosene and diesel fuel, including gasoline with up to 15% ethanol (E15) and diesel fuel with up to 5% biodiesel (B5), such as, but not limited to, those formulated in accordance with the documents listed in Clause 1.1.1.

The installation, maintenance and use of the spill containment devices are not within the scope of this Standard, and shall be in accordance with, but not limited to, the National Fire Code of Canada; CCME Environmental Code of Practice for Aboveground and Underground Storage Tank Systems Containing Petroleum and Allied Petroleum Products; and the regulations of the appropriate authority having jurisdiction.

CAN/ULC-S663-11 is available for purchase at $ 151.00 for soft copy or $ 181.20 for hard copy from the ULC website (www.ulc.ca) ULC online store. Should you require any additional information, please contact Tess Espejo at (416) 757-5250 ext. 61212 or at email address: Theresa.Espejo@ca.ul.com.

Yours truly,
